Values

This week has been national anti-bullying week and it is fitting that our focus value has been responsibility. We have thought about how our behaviour affects others and that bullying cannot happen if we show true love for one another. This week, Father Wayne brought the Lampedusa Cross into school and shared its amazing story with us. Children had the opportunity to hold the cross as they learnt about its history.

Parent Consultations

It was lovely to see so many parents at our consultation evenings this week. Thank you for your kind and supportive comments about the school and the progress we have made, and for your purchases from the book fair - we earned a good deal of commission towards further books for our school library.

School Uniform

A reminder: all children should be wearing school shoes as per the uniform policy, not boots. If the weather is very wet or cold, boots may be worn to and from school and stored in the playground bench lockers. We have had a number of children mislaying named items which are not in school - please can you check at home to see if your child has brought back someone's else's belongings by accident and return them to school. Thank you.

Campus Safety

A reminder that cars should not be brought on to campus at peak times to ensure our children can have a safe journey to school. If you have to drive, please find somewhere outside the immediate school area to park and walk the rest of the way. We have had several reports of parents "tailgating" authorised vehicles coming through the barrier and parking dangerously on campus.

Head Lice

Unfortunately we have had a few more cases of "nits" in school - please remember to check your child's head regularly (girls AND boys) and treat where necessary.

AiP Christmas Meal

Following some technical difficulties, we have been assured by AiP that the Christmas meal is now live on ParentPay and orders can be placed for Monday 19 December. If your child does not normally have hot meals and you wish to order the Christmas meal as a one-off, please register your interest with the school office as we have asked AiP to provide us with some hard copy order forms.

Charities

As well as our school-based activities, some children have been busy raising money outside of school. In addition to the recent stall in support of Ollie Gardiner, Mabel, Eva and Rowan had a spooky bake sale and raised £80 for Syrian refugees. Before school this morning, Eva, Izzy, Phoebe and Romilly raised £242 for Children in Need at their bake sale. Well done to you all!
