

Biomes Project

Your task is to research into what biomes are, how they are similar to and different from climate zones, and what different types of biome there are in the world. You should then present your research in a creative way.

You may wish to focus on one biome in detail or compare and contrast a number of different ones.

Some possible ideas for presenting your research could be:

- An interactive poster exploring a biome in detail
- A series of posters describing different biomes
- A booklet comparing and contrasting different biomes
- A tourist leaflet persuading people to visit the biome
- Or, you could get really creative and build a three dimensional model of a biome!

Kind regards
